What happened?
This website is participating in a project to stop attacks and educate visitors with infected computers or mobile devices about how they can clean them up.
Why am I seeing this page?
Your computer or another device on your network is compromised with a virus or malware. Criminals can use this malware to manipulate your device to send spam, process fraudulent transactions, or conceal other dangerous activities.
What should I do?
Make sure your anti-virus software is up to date and run a full scan. If you do not currently use an
